Rezoning Vote Put Off After Stormy 6-Hour Hearing

Volunteers Plan Bell-Ringing Day For Fund Drive

Community Fund Has Army Of Assistants In Drive For $15,700

Hundreds of volunteers will be out ringing doorbells Saturday on the opening day of Mountainside's Community Fund Drive. According to Jack Keenan, 1965 drive president, the volunteer response has been enthusiastic, a good omen, he said, for the success of the campaign.

The traditional fund "thermometer" has been set up near the intersection of the eastbound lane of Rt. 22 and New Providence rd. The goal of $15,700 is marked at the top.

Keenan emphasized the importance of reaching the goal, pointing out that the fund supports six agencies, all of whom serve borough residents.

The Mountainside Rescue Squad will receive $3,500; the Watchung Area Boy Scout Council, $4,540; the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, $2,540; the District Nursing Association, $2,150; the Union County Psychiatric Clinic, $1,700; and the Youth and Family Counseling Service, $780. The balance of $490 will cover campaign expenses.

Those residents not at home when the volunteers call are asked to mail their checks to the drive's treasurer, John Miller, 278 Pembroke rd., Mountainside. Checks should be made payable to the Mountainside Community Fund.

Zone directors, announced for the first time this week, include Peter Renzi, John Carnes, Joseph Wintermute, Everett Perkins, John Barry, E. K. Harbaugh, Thomas Knierim, Richard Krebs, Charles Proudfoot, Mrs. Henry Feigenbaum, Mrs. Irwin Greenbaum, Mrs. Paul Passafiume, Mrs. H. L. Banfield, Mrs. Joseph D'Aotrie and Mrs. J. A. Carrol.

Harold Nelson Jr., who headed the 1964 drive, is serving as co-chairman this year. Walter Degenhardt is directing collections from business and industry.

Serving as area directors are Mrs. T. C. Ruberti, William Van Blarcom, Rollin Schiefelbein, George Wiech and John Hechtle.

MOUNTAINSIDE'S COMMUNITY FUND drive kickoff Saturday. Jack Keenan, president of the 1965 drive, points to huge thermometer near intersection of Rt. 22 and New Providence rd. which will record progress to the $15,700 goal. Looking on are 19-month old Anthony Zador, who was revived by the Mountainside Rescue Squad last summer, Glen Ungarten, one of the borough's Boy Scouts who attended Camp Philmont, the national Boy Scout camp, and Sue Matko, a Senior Girl Scout from Mountainside who attended the International Girl Scout Round-Up last summer.

Seeds' Warning: Rezoning Perils Property Values

Mayor Candidate Reads Statement At Public Hearing

William Seeds, Democratic candidate for mayor, read a prepared statement in opposition to the proposed rezoning ordinance at Tuesday night's public hearing in Echobrook School, Mountainside. In it, he warned that rezoning would depreciate property values all over the borough for "whatever damages the reputation of the community affects all of us."

The full text of Seeds' statement follows:

"The residents of Mountainside purchased, maintained and improved their homes so that they could live and raise their families in residential, pleasant surroundings. If this amendment is passed, many who now live under these conditions will find their areas changed to semi-commercial atmosphere.

"Property values will be depreciated not only in the areas directly affected by this change but all over the borough for whatever damages the reputation of the community affects all of us.

"Much of the area between Central ave. and Summit rd. which is now zoned for restricted commercial use, and which this amendment seeks to increase by adding the preferred, restricted commercial 'A' zone, has made very little progress in its development in the ten years or so that it has been in existence. It would seem illogical to expand a commercial zone farther into residential areas when the present part is not being fully successful. I would dislike to think that this area is being changed from residential to commercial just so that the rezoning of the Wilson property would not be considered 'spot zoning.'

"While I deplore any attempts to downgrade residential property, certainly the 'preferred' restricted commercial 'A' zone is the least undesirable zone adjacent to residential zones. But its development in the Wilson tract certainly is quite large for large offices or research operations that would be needed here if these proposed changes are approved. It would seem unlikely that any large corporations would take advantage of this rezoning."

Tuesday Slated For Final Action

Final action on the proposed rezoning ordinance was postponed by Mountainside's Borough Council Tuesday evening after a stormy six-hour public hearing during which scores of the approximately 300 residents attending voiced unequivocal opposition to its passage. Charges of spot zoning and hints of law suits dotted the meeting's proceedings.

GOP Candidates Issue Statement On Zoning Issue

The Republican candidates for office in Mountainside, Mayor Frederick Wilhelms, Councilman B. Dean Spain and Wilfred Brandt, issued "ten statements of fact" this week concerning the proposed rezoning ordinance which had a hectic hearing Tuesday night.

The ordinance, they claim, "prohibits industrial and manufacturing buildings; prevents apartment houses; allows only office, laboratory and data processing buildings; protects adjacent homes with shrubbery, trees and a woven cedar fence; prohibits any construction within 100 feet of residential property lines; restricts buildings to 30 percent of land area; will end Wilson law suits on which borough legal costs already exceed $48,000; will produce more than $150,000 annual tax income from Wilson property alone; will pay the annual costs of library, borough facilities and storm sewers more than twice over from property alone; will provide a hedge against future tax increases on your home."

One of the statements, that the rezoning of the Wilson property will produce more than $150,000 tax revenue to the borough, was questioned at Tuesday night's meeting by citizens who stated that buildings worth between two and six million dollars would have to be erected there to bring such a tax return.

Another of the statements, that the ordinance prohibits industrial and manufacturing buildings, was challenged at the hearing. "The ordinance does permit 'development and research, laboratories, including the manufacture or assembly of limited quantities of products or models of products.' A questioner at the hearing asked 'where is a limit put on such manufacture?'"

A Special Council Meeting Scheduled Next Tuesday

A special Council meeting was scheduled next Tuesday at 9 p.m. in Echobrook School for the specific purpose of taking final action.

The public hearing on the ordinance, which would change approximately 22 acres of Mountainside land from residential to "preferred, restricted commercial A" classification, opened at 8:30. It was after 2 a.m. when the Council went into caucus before taking a vote. After about a 20-minute caucus, Mayor Frederick Wilhelms announced that action was delayed to allow Council members to study the tapes of the evening's hectic proceedings.

Councilman Gilbert Pittenger, who voted against the ordinance when it was passed, 4-1, at the reading last month, said at the close of the caucus that he will vote against the measure next Tuesday. He was the only Councilman who would indicate at the public hearing how his vote would go.

His statement that he would again cast a dissenting vote and that he couldn't care less "what Wilson wants... it's what we want" drew applause and cheers from the embattled citizens.

Several of the protestors attempted to draw answers from the Councilmen, particularly George Coughlin and William McCurley, on how their votes would go. Neither would commit themselves although Coughlin did say at one point that he felt the rezoning of the two areas, the so-called Wilson tract and a tract of about 10 acres in the rear of Corrinne ter, between Summit rd. and Central ave., would bring in "good rates."

The question most often repeated was "why?" Why rezoning two tracts that go deep into built-up residential areas was asked over and over again.

The answer, given by either Mayor Wilhelms or Borough Attorney Nicholas St. John LaCorte, always revolved around the current litigation in which A. A. Wilson, owner of one of the tracts, is attempting to get a reversal of the local Board of Adjustment's refusal to grant him a variance to erect a retail store and a 150-unit garden apartment on his land.

The mayor and the attorney indicated that the borough must take action before "the decision is taken out of its hands" (by the court).

Charges that the Corrinne ter tract was included in the rezoning simply to attempt to avoid spot zoning were made repeatedly.

One embattled woman resident, who said her home directly abutted the Corrinne ter tract, said that the value of her property and others in the neighborhood would go down if a commercial zone was put next to it. She scoffed at plans for buffer zones, described in the proposed ordinance.

"I don't care if you cover it with roses," property values will still go down, she insisted. Several others cautioned that.

REZONING BATTLE

Library In 1966 Possible With New Deadline Date Set

The hope of having a new library completed before the end of 1966 was revived at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Trustees of Mountainside's Free Public Library.

That hope was born of three things — a letter from the Borough Council instructing the trustees to seek the services of a library consultant, the assurance of Borough Attorney Nicholas LaCorte that title to borough-owned land on the north side of Rt. 22 would probably be cleared by mid-November and an extension of the deadline date for applying for federal funds for construction.

Sydney Mele, president of the library body, said after the meeting that "this could mean we could have the library completed by next October." Mele early last month said that construction would most likely be postponed until 1967 because the deadline for filing for 1966 federal funds could not be met.

It came out at Monday night's session that the local board had been informed about two weeks ago by the state that the Sept. 15 deadline for applying for federal aid for library construction had been pushed back to Jan. 15, 1966. Any applications made before the January date will be eligible for funds in 1966.

As previously announced to apply for federal aid the trustees must have a site set aside for a library, assurance in writing from local officials that federal funds will be matched by a registered architect.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms Monday night confirmed the letter, indicating that a portion of borough-owned land fronting on New Providence rd., between Rt. 22 and Birch Hill rd., will be used for a library site. No decision has yet been reached, the mayor said on whether the library will be a separate building

Rival Candidates To Meet Tonight At AAUW Forum

Mayor Wilhelms, his Democratic opponent, William Seeds, and their Councilman running mates will confront each other this evening in Beechwood School at a forum sponsored by the Mountainside branch of the American Association of University Women.

The program, scheduled to open at 8:30, will be moderated by Mrs. Fred Morley of the Westfield League of Women Voters. It is open to the public.

The political rivals had their first public encounter last Friday night at a Candidates-Night sponsored by the Concord Civic Association. That discussion, according to several listeners, was a heated and hectic one.

Tonight's session is expected to be at least equally lively.

Each of the candidates, Wilhelms, and his running mates, B. Dean Spain and Wilfred Brandt, and Seeds and his team, Joseph Stypa and John Wroblewski, will have five minutes to present a prepared statement to questions previously submitted to them by the LWV.

The questions are: "Why are you seeking public office?" and "If elected, what do you think is the most important question to be considered by the Mountainside Borough Council?"

At the completion of the prepared talks, the meeting will be opened to questions from the floor. The candidates will be allowed two minutes to answer each question.

Scouts Distribute LWV Info Sheets

Members of Boy Scout Troop 76 will deliver voter information sheets this Saturday to the homes of Mountainside voters.

The sheets, prepared by the League of Women Voters of Westfield, will include biographical information on local, county and state candidates. The information on county and state candidates will be included on one sheet; data on the six local candidates will be on a separate sheet. Both sheets will contain the candidates' answers to questions of current interest.

Members of the LWV met Monday and Tuesday at the home of the voter service chairman, Mrs. Roy Lucy, to prepare the sheets for distribution. More than 11,000 sheets will be distributed throughout the area covered by the Westfield League.

MMA WILL EQUIP A MUSIC ROOM IN NEW LIBRARY

The Mountainside Music Association has promised to equip and help maintain a music room in the proposed new Mountainside Public Library.

The association president, Mrs. Mona Grubel, made the announcement at Monday night's meeting of the Library Trustees. The statement was made at this time, Mrs. Grubel stated, so that plans for the new library would include room for such a facility.

Mrs. Bea Reich, a member of the MMA, pointed out that the music room could also serve as an art center. It is the purpose of the MMA, she indicated, to attempt to supply the "cultural extras" that might not be available through public funds.

Book Circulation Climbs To 3,693

A total of 3,693 books and magazines were circulated from Mountainside's Public Library during September, the library director, Mrs. Emily Hoffarth reported, this week. This represents a daily average of 154 books.

Sixteen adults and 33 children registered in the library during that month bringing the total registration to 2,834. Eighty-seven new books were purchased and 15 were received as gifts.

The library is now open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. with no closing hour for lunch.

21 Seniors Inducted Into Honor Society

Twenty-one seniors were inducted into the Honor Society of Governor Livingston Regional High School at ceremonies held recently in the Berkeley Heights school.

John Carver, president of the school's Honor Society, administered the oath to the following inductees: Jeffrey Averick, Alexandra Devlin, Lloyd De Vos, Sharon Fischer, Deborah Gaynes, Sally Hand, Bruce Jabanowski, Sandra Karwoski, Stephen Kaufman, Barbara Lake, Connie Mangione, Caroline Mazur, Phyllis Moore, John Phillips, Winifred Podmayer, Pamela Reich, John Rupp, Fredrica Scheidecker, Douglas Sulzer, Virginia Voigt and Virginia Young.

Four students spoke before the induction ceremonies. Stephanie Doba's topic was "Character," James Testa discussed "The Identity of a Scholar," James Caldwell spoke on "Leadership Potential" and Jeanne Reel on "Service to One's Neighbor."

After the program, the new members and their parents were guests at a reception held by the Honor Society.

William C. Seeds

William C. Seeds, Democratic mayoralty candidate for mayor of Mountainside, served as mayor of East Newark and as a Councilman there for a total of nine years. He also served on the Council of North Arlington for three years.

Some time ago his Democratic supporters ferreted out his governmental experience in North Arlington but it was only in the last two weeks they learned that their standard bearer was a former mayor. And then they learned by accident.

Frank Magnolia, campaign manager for Seeds and his running mates, Joseph Stypa and John Wroblewski, picked up the information just two weeks ago from one of his customers, the present mayor of East Newark. Magnolia was dumbfounded but jubilant as were Stypa and Wroblewski.

"That's Bill for you," Stypa said, "he never blows his own horn — we've had to drag information out of him."

Seeds does have a deep reticence but he is by no means taciturn. He speaks well and plainly on matters which he deems important or which, in his mind, have bearing on the point under discussion. His reserve is limited to his personal life, not from any sense of secrecy but rather from a complete lack of egotism.

One has to prod to find that he is plant manager in the North Brunswick plant of Johns-Manville Co., that he gained his education the hard way by attending evening classes in Newark College of Engineering, that he took several specialized courses in Rutgers, Cornell and New York Universities.

Born in Kearny, Seeds lived all his life in the West Hudson, South Bergen area. His father died when he was less

ECHO POLITICAL PROFILES Frederick Wilhelms Jr.

Frederick Wilhelms Jr. was appointed mayor of Mountainside Sept. 8, 1964. He estimates that in the intervening months he has put in an average of 20 hours of work a week in connection with his municipal post.

He draws this estimate from a log he kept at first of time spent at committee meetings, caucus sessions, public meetings and doing his "homework." The "homework," Wilhelms says, is the most important part of the job — sitting at meetings doesn't avail much if the official has not first boned up on the subject under discussion. He doesn't keep the log anymore — he doesn't have time.

He has found the job "enjoyable, frustrating, disappointing and generally enlightening."

The enjoyment comes from keeping busy — being involved in work that has meaning on a broad scale. The frustrations come mostly from being delayed in carrying out plans, hamstrung by the vast network of different levels of government agencies which must be consulted and considered in making decisions on things that on the surface seem to be exclusively a local matter.

The disappointments are pretty much the same as those that hit any local government official, the enlightenment from the knowledge he has gained in these 13 months of the necessary procedures to be followed in administering the affairs of a community.

He admits frankly that the mayor's job is much more time-consuming than he expected. He is, however, willing to take on another term.

He and his running mates on the ticket, Councilman B. Dean Spain and Wilfred Brandt, are

Doesn't Tell Truth -- Pays Consequence

It doesn't pay not to tell the truth. Stephen E. Kennedy of Plainfield—had that fact confirmed last week in Mountainside's Municipal Court when he paid $200 fine for stating in his application for a driving license that he had automobile insurance.

Kennedy also paid a $10 fine for not having a driver's license in his possession, $10 additional for not having registration in his possession and another $10 fine for not having an insurance card. Kennedy was charged with the violations on Sept. 23 when he was stopped in the westbound lane of Rt. 22.

A $200 fine was also levied by Magistrate Jacob Bauer against Richard T. Berrier of Lewisburg, Pa., for driving while his license was suspended.

John Thorn of Newark paid a $25 fine on a charge of using other plates while driving in the westbound lane of Rt. 22 on Dec. 9, 1963. Sentence was suspended on four other charges made against Thorn on the same day including operating an unregistered vehicle, not having an inspection sticker, no name and address on a commercial vehicle and not having a stop light.

Others fined in the same court session were: James Watson of Newark, no registration for trailer, $10; Frances Pittman of Summit, no inspection, $10; George Waidlich of Linden, disregarding traffic signal, $10; Donald See of Greenbrook, no license in possession, $10; Michael E. Soules of Westfield, speeding, $10; Joseph A. DeMarco of East Orange, not using caution when changing lanes, $10; Northeast Corp. of North Bergen, no inspection, $10.

Also: Joseph E. Quirk of Englewood, no inspection on trailer, $10; Hamilton W. King of Summit, speeding, $5; Albert J. Costa of Elizabeth, using other plates, $25; Glen Thorn of Newark, operating unregistered vehicle, $10; Robert A. Karstensen of Greenbrook, careless driving, $15; Francesco A. Bibbo of Millburn, failing to keep right, $5; Felix M. Wilkes of High Bridge, speeding, $10; Ralph S. Barba, of Watchung, speeding, $10; Leonard Levy of Iselin, expired drivers license, $10; Gladys Levy of Iselin, no inspection, $10.

Also: Vito De Santo of Bound Brook, speeding, $10; Fred J. Wehler of Boyertown, Pa., careless driving, $15; William T. Schaefer of Basking Ridge, improper passing, $10; Thomas Cornell of South Plainfield, no red light on overhand overhanging load, $25.

Sophomore At Duke Scores Four Goals

Dave Jubanowsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Jubanowsky of 310 Indian trail, Mountainside, has scored four goals this season for the soccer team of Duke University. Jubanowsky, a sophomore, is a lineman on the Duke team.

A 1964 graduate of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Jubanowsky lettered in soccer, basketball and baseball at the Berkeley Heights school. He was all-county soccer selection for two years in high school. He played on Duke's freshman soccer team last year.

The six foot one-inch, 190-pound Jubanowsky performed soccer's "hat trick" in Duke's 6-4 win over American University Oct. 9. Duke's Blue Devils also downed Appalachian State 4-0 in the opening game of the season. Duke hosts Virginia this

Kurz Sees Action On Bucknell Team

Arthur Kurz, former Piny School athlete, is among 29 members of the Bucknell University freshman soccer team.

Kurz, a 6-foot 181-pound right halfback, saw action in the Baby Bison's wins over Lock Haven Junior Varsity, 5-3, and Rutgers freshman, 4-2. Coached by Kirk Randall, the yearlings will play a five-game schedule that also includes tilts with Lock Haven and two contests with Penn State.

Kurz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph G. Kurz of 10 High Point drive, Mountainside, scored the final Baby Bison goal in the win over Lock Haven.

Dress Is Optional At Annual Dance Of Music Society

The Mountainside Music Association will hold its annual fall dance Nov. 5 at 9 p.m. in the gymnasium of Deerfield School. Dress will be either "formal" or "beatnik," according to the association president, Mrs. Mona Grubel.

The decoration committee has promised to give "a new and glamorous look" to the gym, Mrs. Grubel added. Serving on the decoration committee are Mr. and Mrs. Don Goff, Mrs. Nancy Serio and Mrs. Mary Stanke.

Mrs. Anne Rose and Mrs. Marie Toland are in charge of tickets. Mrs. Peg Olson and Mrs. Lee Flsher are heading the refreshment committee and Mrs. Sally McCurley is handling publicity. Mrs. Toland is in charge of posters.

Tickets will be available from all association members or may be purchased at the door.

Plans for the event were completed at an executive board meeting held recently at Mrs. Grubel's home. At that time, Mrs. Grubel expressed the hope that the coming dance will be as enthusiastically received by the community, as previous MMA dances have been.

GE Computer Dept. Will Relocate Here

Rapid growth of the computer business is making it necessary for the eastern regional staff of the General Electric Computer Department to move from G-E headquarters in New York City to Mountainside, Clifton W. Sink, eastern region manager, said today.

The Mountainside center will house the entire eastern regional staff of G-E by the end of this year, Sink stated.

The new Eastern Region Support Center will be located in a 21,000-square-foot building already being utilized for computer training by the region. Sink and a limited number of staff personnel will retain offices in G-E corporate headquarters in New York City.

The new Mountainside building, at 1124 Globe ave., already houses GE-415 and GE-225 computer systems, five classrooms, as well as warehouse and product service facilities. The department recently consolidated warehouse and product service facilities at Mountainside, which formerly were located in Hartford, Conn., and Atlanta, Ga.

The Mountainside operation will be headed by H. Hilton Lee, eastern region manager of technical and sales development. Leo C. Hazatis is regional manager of product service.

Education operations at the center, already under way, will produce some 25 programmers and computer operators a week, with classes varying from three days to five weeks. Personnel both from customer and General Electric organizations are being trained.

George Perla has been named manager of teaching facilities.

Community Day Observance Set By Area Council

World Community Day will be noted by women of the Community Presbyterian Church, Mountainside, and First Baptist Church of Westfield at a joint observance scheduled Nov. 5 in St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Garwood.

The United Church Women of the Westfield Area Council will sponsor the annual observance. Articles made throughout the year for the Council's material aid project, "Sew and Send" will be dedicated at the service. The articles will be sent to needy areas in Latin America.

Rezoning Battle

The introduction of any commercial plants in the two areas or in any part of the community would hurt property values throughout the borough.

The same woman accused the Council of "running scared just because one man has a suit against us."

Wilhelms' suggestion that the opposition expressed by those present was not indicative of the feelings of the balance of the 7,000 borough residents brought hoots from the crowd.

One woman stated that many residents had told her there was no use attending the hearings, "it's all out and dried."

The consensus of the crowd seemed to be let the court decide the disposition of the Wilson land. Several of the protesters, including the lawyer for the Pembroke Civic Association, reviewed the ten year's litigation between Wilson and the borough.

Pembroke's attorney, Irving Silverlight, and the Borough Attorney offered different interpretations of previous suits between Wilson and the borough.

Others offered various solutions for disposition of the land, including condemnation of it for use as a school site or some other borough facility. Borough Clerk Elmer Hoffarth said, in response to a question from the floor, that the Borough could have purchased the Wilson tract in 1953 from the previous owner for $30,000. The land was sold about two years later to Wilson for over $100,000.

A Wyoming drive resident, who was one of a few who said he was "completely in favor" of the zone change, asked Mayor Wilhelms to estimate the tax loss to the borough on the Wilson property in the past several years. Saying such an estimate would be difficult, Wilhelms offered instead, what he termed was a "valid projection" of possible tax revenue from the property if it is rezoned. The one tract could produce, Wilhelms stated, in "excess of $150,000" yearly in taxes.

This figure was challenged by many who stated that buildings worth between two to six million dollars would have to be erected to produce such tax returns.

Several of the objectors warned that any commercial zoning of residential areas would make it easier for Wilson or the owner of any property fronting on any portion of the highway to secure further "downgrading" variances. "You're opening the door," they warned.

Ingate Completes Infantry Training

Second Lt. Jerome T. Ingate, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Ingate, 1398 Wood Valley rd., Mountainside, recently completed a nine-week infantry officer's basic course at the Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the course, Lieutenant Ingate received instruction in military leadership responsibilities, map and aerial photograph reading, tactics of small infantry units and Army administrative procedures.

He was graduated from Seton Hall Preparatory High School, South Orange, in 1961 and received his bachelor of science degree from Niagara University in New York in 1965.

Echo Political Profile - - - WILHELMS

Spain and Wilfred Brandt, have been pushing doorbells on recent weekends seeking the support of local voters.

He has not, he indicates, let the fast approaching election color his judgment in any area of borough affairs. He has never tried to achieve political popularity by tempering decisions which he feels are vital to the welfare of the community, he says.

A Mountainside resident for the past 13 years, Wilhelms served for six years on the Mountainside Board of Education, heading the school body for all but one of those years. During his term four of the board's major construction programs were in process — Beechwood School and its addition were built, the library addition to Deerfield was started just as his term expired and the first addition to Deerfield was in process when he "knew" on the board.

He and his wife, the former Jeanne Sleekman, have taken a deep interest in borough schools since they moved to town.

They had three good reasons — their daughter, Linda, now a sophomore at the University of Kentucky, and their two sons, Frederick (Rick), now a junior at Governor Livingston High School, and Christopher (Kip), a freshman at the regional high school.

They have also been active in other community affairs. Jeanne has done the choreography for the Larkettes, the school's singing group, and the Union County P.T.A. Chorus. She has been extremely active in the school libraries library committee and the Mountainside Music Association.

The mayor, an elder in the Community Presbyterian Church, has served in various capacities in the borough's Little League, is a member of the board of directors of the Union County Chamber of Commerce, the board of managers of St. Elizabeth's Hospital and the Board of Trustees of the Union County Laborers Welfare and Pension Fund.

Holder of a civil engineering degree from Lafayette College, he is president of Wilhelms Construction Co., a firm his grandfather founded in 1898.

Mayor Wilhelms and his wife took a brief respite from home duties and community activities last month to visit Hawaii for the first time. He had to attend a five-day conference in California so they tacked an extra week to the trip and flew to the newest state. Mrs. Wilhelms' parents filled in on the home front.

They found Hawaii fun and interesting and, most of all, educational.

The mayor found the harmony and ease in which the polyglot population of the islands lives a lesson in human relations.

"There were no color lines, no ethnic barrier that we could see. Everyone has equal status. They lived wherever their inclinations and their pocketbooks take them."

Inter-marriage between the races, they found, not only accepted but unquestioned. As an example, Wilhelms tells of one waitress with whom they became acquainted.

Her father was Portuguese, her mother — Japanese, — her husband

Chinese — and they had the three cutest kids on the block." The most unforgettable part of their island visit was a trip to the Punch Bowl National Cemetery. The cemetery, the mayor explains, is inside the crater of an extinct volcano. Visitors stand on the rim of the crater and from any point they can look down on the broad expanse of green lawn that holds 24,000 graves, each one marking the death of an American serviceman.

It was an awe-inspiring, frightening sight, Wilhelms says soberly, it made him wonder "what was it all about."

He has a theory that if the leaders of the earth were brought to that spot and made to sit down and work out their problems there near the countless graves of the war dead they might find other solutions than war.

than two — and although his mother remarried some time later he, as the oldest of several sisters and brothers, had to grow up quickly.

He and his wife, Adelaide, a native of Maybrook, N. Y., have two sons, William Jr. of Edison and Charles of Woodbridge, and one daughter, Theresa, who lives with them at 343 Short dr. They also have four grandchildren.

The Seeds family moved to Mountainside seven years ago from North Arlington. The move was made to bring them closer to Manville, where the head of the clan was then working for Johns-Manville, a firm he joined 18 years ago, to the North Brunswick plant.

Seeds recalls with obvious relish that while he was active in politics in North Arlington the Democrats succeeded in breaking the Republicans' long-held monopoly of local government. They got one man elected to the Council the first year.

"In three years we (the Democrats) took full control," he recalls.

He just grins when asked if his North Arlington success will be duplicated in Mountainside.

However he does have plans for the first steps he will take if he wins the mayoralty post. "I'll review executive and administrative structures carefully with a view to improving efficiency and effecting economies."

He also plans a careful review of all borough departments, including the police and fire departments. While on the Council in North Arlington, he carried out a similar study of the police department which resulted in improved service while holding the budget constant. He also established a Safety Bureau in the police department at no extra cost.

With typical open-mindedness, he cautions that he is not making nor will he make any prejudgments on the efficiency or efficacy of any branch of borough operations. However he does feel that, because of his long experience in business administration, he has a certain aptitude for determining where the trouble spots are and how they can best be rectified.

As plant manager for Johns-Manville, he has many innovations and is currently having some portions of the shop automated. This does not mean, he cautions again, that he holds with the theory of "change for change's sake." Many new ideas, hailed as tremendous, are often unworkable, inefficient and downright harmful, he believes. He likes to proceed with caution — and dispatch.

Seeds feels that he, Slypa, an engineering sales executive, and John Wörblecky, who has had long administration experience in education fields, make a good team. Each is qualified, if elected, to give active leadership to the departments which they may head and to participate strongly and independently in Council affairs, he says.

The three are making calls around town, discussing issues with home owners. They are telling them of the rezoning, which came up Tuesday night for passage, of the drainage problems that effect many properties, of the need to bring a

Jeffrey Le Frank Services Held

Funeral services were held last Saturday morning in Community Presbyterian Church, Mountainside, for Jeffrey Le Frank, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Le Frank of 247 Old Tote rd., Mountainside. The pastor, Rev. Elmer A. Talcott, conducted the service.

Jeffrey, who was 14, died Oct. 12 in Overlook Hospital.

A 1965 graduate of Deerfield School, Mountainside, Jeffrey played the clarinet in the school band there and was named to the All-State Band.

He is also survived by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Fred Fensel of Maplewood, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. John Le Frank of Belmar.

In lieu of flowers, the family requested that contributions be made to the memorial fund of Community Presbyterian Church or the American Cancer Society.

Commentary on a recent National Newspaper Association Study Mission to the British Isles and Scandinavia

By TRUDINA HOWARD

First of a Series IRELAND TO ICELAND On a bright, cool day in August, people from 18 states of the United States were in the village of Blarney...

Consequently, in a little over an hour, about 40 people from such places as Blue Earth, Minn.; Osage, Iowa; Kerrville, Texas; Brighton, Colorado; Hillsboro, Oregon; Middleshoro, Kentucky; Fillmore, California; Geneva, Nebraska; Odensburg, New York; and Lebanon, New Jersey...

The occasion was the 1965 summer Study Mission of the National Newspaper Association which began August 23 in Ireland and ended September 22 in Iceland.

And Iceland is where I'll begin—for WHO goes to Iceland? It is such a mystery and a question. How does it really look? Is it communistic? Is it friendly? Is it cold and icy?

Well in September, 67 Americans were there on the aforementioned Study Mission to learn a little about it—and it was a complete pleasure. Study Missions are planned and arranged co-jointly by the National Newspaper Association (NNA) and Travel Consultants, Inc., both of Washington, D. C.

The itinerary included in order of stops: Killarney, Cork, Dublin, Belfast, Glasgow, Liverpool, Birmingham, London, Amsterdam, Hamburg, Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen and Reykjavik.

It also has the most tranquil sunsets you ever saw. They come in shades of grey and no color whatsoever. It has turbulent waterfalls and quiet trout-filled lakes. It has bleak-unforested mountains and verdant valleys.

Contrary to expectations, there are no trees to speak of and no communists to speak of, except those planted and tended quite carefully in Reykjavik—the trees, that is. The country around Reykjavik is bleak of trees and consists mainly of hills and mountains and lava beds covered with moss, blackberries, blueberries, heather and a yellow flower similar to a low-growing golden-rod.

And so Iceland, which is reputedly rather red and expectedly rather icy, is neither: its red is mainly in the fire of the volcanos and its ice is in the snows of the glaciers, but not in politics or the weather. Most of Iceland averages 50 degrees in summer with July being the warmest at 54 to 60 in the afternoon, and 30 degrees in winter.

On the September days of our visit, however, it was about 65 in the afternoon. As for the communist party, it has only 15% of the vote and according to Prime Minister Bjarni Benediktsson, an Independence Party member, "on the whole the communists are losing... they are having difficulties among themselves."

Further surprises and contradictions exist in the facts that Iceland has a 7 1/2% sales tax, small houses of two bedrooms cost from 60 to 70 thousand dollars U. S., two-bedroom apartments cost $20,000 and a two-family house costs $90,000 without the land.

for defense but it was an original member of NATO. It has no alliance with the European Free Trade Association or the Common Market and gets no U. S. aid. Despite its expensive building habits, it has an eight-story, modern, beautiful hotel with a roof-top-all-around-view-restaurant and bar, several 16-story apartment houses and office buildings and approximately 5,250 farms. And, in far-off sounding, Viking-age sounding unpronounceable Reykjavik you can go to a sleek night club with three floors worth of orchestras, so you can select your dancing mood.

IN NOVEMBER, December and January Iceland only has two to five hours of daylight, but on the other hand, from May to August it has perpetual daylight. Its Parliament is said to be the oldest in the world having been established in 930 A.D., but it once belonged to Norway, then Denmark and only became completely independent in 1944. It has five daily newspapers and about 12 community weeklies and all are political party-owned or have tinges of party ownership except one daily and that is the only one that makes money. (There are four parties: The Independence Party who are the conservatives, 45%; the Progressives who are chiefly the farmers, 25%; the Social Democrats, 15% and the Communists, 15%.)

There are 777,000 sheep and 190,000 people in Virginia-sized Iceland. The people are descended mainly from the Norwegian Vikings and speak Icelandic, an old Viking tongue. They are blond and brunette, short and tall, fat and thin, consuming 3,240 calories a day, and 80,000 of them live in Reykjavik, which is pronounced Rake-ee-a-vick. Known as the land of fire and ice, (and no

N.J. Bell Will Identify Sponsors Of Pre-Recorded Phone Messages

A ruling by the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners last week authorized the N. J. Bell Telephone Co. to disclose the identity of sponsors of pre-recorded telephone messages. William F. WHILE ICELAND may be a mystery and a pleasure, it is also a surprise and a contradiction and a crazy mixed-up piece of real estate. Iceland is spelled "Island" in Iceland, but even as Island or Iceland it still can't make up its mind whether to be hot or cold. It has 20 or more active volcanos — but it also has 12 or so active glaciers! It has geo-thermal activity in such forms as hot water geysers, hot springs and hot rivers in such quantity no less than the hot water supply and the heating system for the entire capital city is by natural hot water at about 200 degrees piped in—but there can also be snow on the ground in winter, and children in a swimming pool outdoors.

Just three short years ago a new island (meaning land surrounded by water and not another Iceland) was formed by a volcano rising out of the ocean just 35 miles off the coast (Surtsey) and another started this summer very near it called "the baby of Surtsey". Yet the first thing we saw from the air was ice—a glacier.

The capital city of Reykjavik doesn't get as much snow as New York City. As a matter of fact, last winter it never got cold enough to form ice on the ponds of Reykjavik in order for the children to ice skate. Yet the Navy boys at the NATO base at Keflavik 30 miles away say that when the wind blows your skin will "freeze stiff" in two minutes. There is a system for ridding the wind velocity and when it is even at half-point, the boys do not venture out of their huts. Iceland has earthquakes—but

Meet The 'Queen Of Transylvania'

High Schooler Plays Many Roles With Equity Unit

By RITA ZEISS
It isn't often that a high school student meets a celebrity in a French class. It is even less often that a student FEELS like a celebrity in French class. But Andrea Hyde did last week.

A classmate, hitherto unknown but now forever beloved, came up to her in French class in Governor Livingston High School and asked: "Weren't you the queen of Transylvania?"

A startled, overwhelmed and thrilled Andrea, admitted happily that she was.

She was too last summer. She also was a convent postulant, a burlesque stripper, a Cockney flower-seller and many other people during the three short months of summer vacation.

FOR ANDREA, 16-year-old daughter of the Thomas Hydes of 1308 Wood Valley rd., Mountainside, was an apprentice this summer at the Grist Mill Playhouse. Playing with an Equity company, she was the "Queen of Transylvania" in "My Fair Lady" and doubled in the same show as a Cockney flower girl. The stripper role was in "Gypsy."

She also essayed many other minor roles, sang in the chorus, performed with the dance line, was prop girl, theatre-sweeper, a c.e.n.e.r.y. changer and baby-sitter for a woolly little lamb which appeared in "Gypsy."

Tall athletic Andrea had had to learn to "walk like a queen" for the Transylvania bit, an accomplishment that was only achieved after grueling drilling by the director, she says. She almost lost the queenly gait in one carefree day riding a horse bareback on a nearby farm.

"Did you ever try to walk like a queen when you're bandy-legged?" she asks, demonstrating with a series of high-stepping, jerky motions how she looked after her saddleless expedition.

She found the summer theatre exciting and challenging. She loved the work, although much of it was arduous and she loved the people with whom she worked.

"They were just the tops," she reports.

Several of the company were near the tops in their field too. Henry Sutton, who starred in the Grist Mill's production of "Irma La Douce," is now appearing with Carol Channing in the touring company of "Hello Dolly." David Smith, professor Higgins in the Mill's "My Fair Lady" is making a movie.

But most of all she loved "strike night." In summer theatre, Andrea explains, "strike night" holds none of the connotation it has in union circles. Strike night is work night — all night work.

FOLK SINGER ANDREA Hyde of Mountainside strums on her guitar one of the melodies that have made her a favorite entertainer at a teen-age gathering place in Plainfield. Sixteen-year-old Andrea is pictured in front of posters from the Gristmill Playhouse, Andover, where she was employed this past summer as an apprentice.

Lions Club Hears Talk By Educator

Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president of Union Junior College, discussed the role of the junior college in modern education before the Springfield Lions Club last Friday at the Mountainside Inn. He noted that nearly 25 percent of all college freshmen today attend two-year colleges.

Citing various items in the UJC expansion program, Dr. MacKay said that his institution has always emphasized the role of transfer to four-year colleges, as against many other junior colleges which stress the terminal program.

He also commented, "Recent state legislation now makes it possible for New Jersey to develop a system of junior or community colleges. Already five are under way; two of them opening next fall."

Dr. MacKay stated, "The big job for UJC today is to extend the opportunities for Union County youth to get started with their college education, at home and under favorable financial conditions."

Cars were judged on beauty and condition.

Newark Academy Student Is Cited

David Yuckman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ben P. Yuckman of 28 Fieldstone dr., Springfield, has been commended for his high performance last spring in the National Merit-Scholarship Qualifying Test.

He is a student at Newark Academy, Livingston.

The youth is one of seven Newark Academy students and 38,000 students across the country who have been recognized for scoring in the top two percent in the tests.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, said:

"The commended students have considerable ability, which should be developed through further education. They deserve every encouragement, and their promise is great. They represent an important intellectual resource which our nation needs."

Arapaho so her family caught most of her shows this summer.

A very positive and purposeful teen-ager, Andrea hopes to make a career of singing.

"I like acting too," she points out, "but I HAVE to sing."

However, she is also practical. Now a junior at Governor Livingston, she would like to major in architecture in college and minor in music. She has a flair for design and she has a secret hankering to design bridges, "simple but beautiful bridges."

But the architecture comes after the singing.

"That's just to fall back on if I don't make it with my voice and my guitar," she says frankly.

Andrea, her mother says, has been singing since she could talk, music has "always delighted" her. She was a member of the "Larkettes," the locally famed singing group, in Mountainside and is now on the "Chorale," the top vocal group at Governor Livingston High School.

NO. 8 SPRING STREET, FLEMINGTON, NEW JERSEY

ONE OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST SPECIALISTS IN FINE FURS

IT CAME usually on a Saturday night when a show was closing. After the final curtain call, the apprentices, armed with hammers, saws, clubs and all manner of tools, attacked the scenery. Their assignment was not only to get the old sets down but the sets for the opening scene of the new show up. It was usually an all-night job with time out for a spaghetti and cake dinner at 2 a.m. Dawn usually found the strikers still hard at work.

"But it was such fun — we all worked so hard but we had so much fun doing it," Andrea remembers.

Andrea makes a practice of doing things and having fun doing them.

A folk singer and guitar player, she appears almost every weekend during the school year at the "Hideaway," a teenage gathering place in Plainfield. She has written several folk-songs of her own. Two of them, "Oh, Lawdy," a wailing, haunting protest against racial inequities, and "Love," are included in her regular repertoire. She has appeared, as a soloist and with a partner, at college hootnannys in the area.

She has a job coming up next month at Union Catholic High School. She will be one of the performers at a hootnanny scheduled Nov. 24 in the Scotch Plains school.

Her working garb is simple — a shirt and levis.

Andrea admits, with a trace of apology, that she never has stage fright.

Crooning For Coroner

Boright Is Politicking Troubadour

Walter C. Boright Jr. of Kenilworth hopes to croon his way into the county Coroner's post in the upcoming election. Applying a new approach to the age-old game of politicking is gaining fame for the 21-year-old borough resident. Boright is one of three Democratic nominees for the non-paying post and he said he is probably the youngest candidate for county office in county history. Most politicians make speeches. Boright is conducting another kind of campaign. He says he attends numerous political rallies, dances, cocktail parties, home kaffee klatches and club meetings with a tape recorder and some pre-recorded piano accompaniment. After saying just a few words to explain his campaign technique, Boright launches into song—Broadway hit melodies, some operatic arias and popular tunes.

audience insists on another song," Boright said.

"The reason why I decided on this type of campaigning, is because the office has very few duties and nomination to it is sighting of shipwrecks and selling of the duties of the corner include sighting of shipwrecks and selling of the clothing of ship wrecked sailors," he noted.

There not being too much ocean front in Union County, Boright said he sees little application for these responsibilities. "Still on the statutes, however," he said, "the coroner is granted the authority of arresting the sheriff on certain occasions when the need arises."

Boright is majoring in history at Newark State College in Union where he began his singing career. On many occasions he is joined in song at political gatherings by his campaign manager, Miss Pamela Zaiddecki of Linden. Currently serving his third term as president of the Kenilworth Youth Democratic Organization, Boright's running mates are George B. Liddy of Roselle Park, and William J. Clancy of Clark.

Non-golfers who won prizes were Charles T. Davis, bank director; Andrew C. Eckels, senior vice-president; William A. Kune, vice-president, and Edward F. Bobb II, assistant treasurer.

Why are plumbing and heating contractors piping up for gas heat?

Like a cheering chorus, local plumbing and heating contractors are piping up for gas heat. These experts know that gas heats best: quiet, healthful, and so trouble-free. They know, too, that a gas heat installation is simple and rarely needs servicing. The result: more than 45,000 families in the Elizabethtown area now use natural gas for heating. And the total grows every day as one happy user tells another about the dependability, the cleanliness, the economy of gas heat. Small wonder that most new homes today are built with gas heating systems: the customer knows best! Now's the time to call Elizabethtown

Gas, or your local plumbing or heating contractor, for a FREE HOME HEATING SURVEY. You'll get a written estimate of the yearly cost of gas heat, and also learn how reasonable it is to install a gas-fired conversion burner or a modern gas heating unit. It costs much less than you think!

STATION BREAKS

By MILT HAMMER

COLLECTOR'S ITEM (an LP album released sometime ago that you may have missed)—"The Finest Hours," a dramatic presentation of the life of our century's most exciting man, Winston Churchill. The album presents the story of the greatest man of his age, revealing the events which molded the character of Sir Winston Churchill and enabled him to so brilliantly lead the British nation in the supreme crisis of its life. Historical events made Churchill great; but his character and his indomitable will shaped the events. This is the theme of "The Finest Hours." The MERCURY album (SPP-2-601) is from the original sound track of the motion picture of the same name.

"The album preserves forever the actual voice of Churchill, and of men who shared the years of crisis with him; Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Neville Chamberlain, and John F. Kennedy. Narration is provided by Orson Welles, with Patrick Wymark speaking as Churchill where no recording of his voice was available. The album contains two records—a full one hour and 56 minutes of dramatic listening, plus a beautifully illustrated brochure containing a unique collection of photos of Churchill from his childhood to the present day.

CELEBRITY BITS: Maggie Pierce, who plays Jerry Van Dyke's wife in TV's "My Mother, The Car" series, is a crack billiards player. Jackie Gleason taught her to play "and now I'm able to give him a run for his money" . . . Carolyn Jones, who hopes to co-star with Sammy Davis when he films "Golden Boy," is taking singing lessons so as to be ready when she's tapped for the role. . . . Jim Henson, who created that lovable Muppet "Rowlf" for the Jimmy Dean Show, has ventured into a new area with huge success. "Time" magazine, a color film short produced by Henson, has won the coveted Plaque Lion of St. Mark at the Venice Film Festival.

Original Players Have 'Dolls' Roles

Vivian Blaine and Sam Levene have been chosen to recreate their original Broadway roles in the forthcoming 15th anniversary production of the musical "Guys and Dolls" at the Paper Mill Playhouse.

Frank Carrington, producer at the Millburn theater, has united 80 percent of the original Broadway company for this special presentation to pay tribute to the creators Damon Runyon, Frank Loesser and Abe Burrows.

"Guys and Dolls" is based on the stories and characters created by Damon Runyon. The music and lyrics are by Frank Loesser, whose Pulitzer prize-winning musical "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" is playing at the Paper Mill currently. Loesser also wrote the music for "The Most Happy Fella."

THE 75-VOICE CHOIR of Poland, founded more than 500 years ago, will perform at Symphony Hall (the Mosque) in Newark on Sunday at 3 p.m. The men and boys blend a program of liturgical and folk music.

Bernstein Leads NY Philharmonic

The New York Philharmonic concert Monday at Symphony Hall (the Mosque) and the Boston Symphony program on Oct. 25 and 30 will include major 20th century works.

The Philharmonic, under Leonard Bernstein, will offer Ralph Vaughan Williams' Fourth Symphony in F minor (1935), a violent creation for this normally peaceful composer, filled with dissonance and certain respites which have been likened to "the sinister calm of exhausted anger."

The Boston Symphony and Erich Leinsdorf will turn to Bartok's masterful Concerto for Orchestra, composed in 1943 two years before his death. Though usually considered a showpiece for brilliant instrumental interplay, Bartok described its "general mood" as a "gradual transition from the sternness of the first movement and the lugubrious death-song of the third (after a jesting second movement) to the life assertion of the last one."

3-Day Ski Fair Opens At Short Hills Mall

A huge Ski Fair with dozens of exhibits of skiing equipment and skiing fashions opens today at The Mall, Short Hills. Sponsors are the Short Hills Ski Club and The Mall. The show will run through Saturday.

The major ski areas from five states—Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania—will have exhibits displaying the facilities available in each of the areas.

GOP Hopefuls Issue Eight-Point Platform

Legislative action on narcotics, education, commuter transportation and five other major state-wide problems was pledged this week by the five Republican candidates for the State Assembly from Union County.

In releasing the eight-point program, the GOP candidates called for an end to political campaign "promises, predictions, and predicaments." The five are: Frank X. McDermott, Loree Collins, Nicholas St. John LaCorte, Philip Del Vecchio, and William M. Weaver. They urged expansion of the State's educational programs to assure that "no qualified youth is denied a college education or technical training."

The Republican legislative platform also calls narcotics a "continuing problem" and urged mandatory sentences for narcotics pushers.

In commuter transportation, the candidates back creation of a state agency to remedy mass transit problems. In other areas, the Republican legislative candidates urged a state program to attract new industry, creation of an adequately financed "Little Hoover Commission" to develop a "modern, positive program of economy in government," protection of property owners from "arbitrary" action by the State Highway Department, progressive labor legislation to benefit employees and consumers, and state action on water problems.

Rinaldo Suggests Hospital Revise Accounting Plan

Matthew J. Rinaldo, Union Township Republican running for freeholder, this week suggested that the John E. Runnells Hospital consider adopting a different accounting method that he said could earn the county "several thousand additional dollars annually."

Rinaldo said that "by instituting an accrual accounting system, Runnells could take into account and recover the cost of services performed by other county offices for the hospital, such as the treasurer's and attorney."

"Because the hospital's system is not on an accrual basis, the county is not realizing the income it should from insurance companies. The established $20.50 a-day rate which the companies now pay," he explained, "does not approximate the real cost-of-a-day's care."

At the same time Rinaldo suggested that the county take steps to ascertain that hospitalization plans be required to reimburse Runnells for X-rays, lab tests and other such charges.

He said he had discussed his suggestions with members of the Runnells Hospital Board. "They have been studying the matter and are in general agreement that the accrual method should be instituted," Rinaldo declared.

Three Hikes Set Over Weekend

The program committee of the Union County Hiking Club has scheduled three hikes for this weekend.

On Saturday a 22-mile bicycle trip is planned from Whitehouse to Oldwick in Hunterdon County. The hikers will travel to Whitehouse by auto and then begin their cycle trip under the leadership of Carl and Joyce Richards of Springfield. This group will meet at Rt. 22 and West End Ave. in North Plainfield at 8 a.m.

Also on Saturday, Miss Irma Heyer of Elizabeth, will lead a five-mile afternoon ramble in the Lake Surprise area of the Watchung Reservation.

On Sunday, Henry Reimer of Irvington will lead a seven-mile hike in the area of Mount Tammany which rises 1,250 feet on the New Jersey side of the Delaware Water Gap.

For further information contact the recreation department of the park commission, a spokesman said.

'Choose One Job' County Dems Say To William Ahern

Freeholder Raymond A. Moore, Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union, and Freeholder Jay A. Stemmer this week called upon Kenilworth Mayor William Ahern to "choose now—before it is too late—between the two jobs to which he aspires on election day." Democrat Ahern is a candidate both for mayor of Kenilworth and freeholder.

Moore, Rinaldo and Stemmer, Republican freeholder candidates, urged Ahern to make his decision "or forever hold his peace when the voters of Union County and Kenilworth rebuff him for his overly voracious political appetite."

The GOP candidates criticized the Democratic hopeful for "overstepping the bounds of proper political ambition by seeking two jobs, either of which demands an officeholder's undivided political attention and loyalty."

"We would not blame the voters of Kenilworth if they responded to this brazen grab for political power by rebuffing Ahern locally," said Moore, Rinaldo and Stemmer. "Nor would we fault the voters of Union County for rejecting his bid for office as a freeholder."

Miss Veronica A. Sember Weds William W. Reinhold

Miss Veronica A. Sember, daughter of Mrs. M. M. Sember of 645 Robinson ter., Union, and Mr. A. J. Sember of Newark, was married Saturday morning to William W. Reinhold, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reinhold of Roselle Park.

Rev. Howard W. McFall, Jr. officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 11 a.m. in Connecticut Farms Presbyterian Church, Union. A reception followed at the Golden Lantern, Linden.

Gerard Matthews of Roselle Park served as best man. Ushers were Vincent Danz of Little Falls and Charles Zimmerman of Roselle Park.

Mrs. Reinhold is an alumna of Union High School. Her husband, who was graduated from Rider College in Trenton, is a cost accountant associated with Allen Industries, Rahway.

Following a honeymoon trip to Bermuda, the couple will reside in Roselle Park.

Juniors Initiate Program: Makeup Instead Of Masks

Mrs. Edward Bakos, youth cooperation chairman of the Junior Woman's Club of Connecticut Farms, Union, has announced that she will initiate a town-wide program of safety by substituting make-up for the traditional Halloween masks, this year.

This will be in accordance with a recommendation of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, Junior membership department, because, they were announced, that children wearing masks suffer the hazards of poor vision while crossing streets, stumbling on stairways and bumping into objects.

Mrs. Wayne Reisinger, welfare department chairman, recently delivered Halloween tray favors to the Winfield Park School, which is sponsored by the New Jersey Association for the Mentally Retarded. The juniors addressed envelopes for the association at their October workshop.

Benjamin Ettinger, executive director of mental health for Union County, will speak at the general meeting of the Juniors, tomorrow night. Ettinger, who also is chairman of the Union County Mental Health Planning Commission that is developing a plan to change individual services to the community in the field of mental health, will speak on one of the state projects of the Junior membership department of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs. The project is expected to raise $10,000 for improved educational facilities for the children at the four state hospitals through work with the New Jersey Association for Mental Health.

Mrs. Albert Fresolone, international relations chairman, will distribute UNICEF cartoons on the October meeting. The "Trick or Treat" cartoons will be carried by members' children on Halloween. Proceeds will be used by the United Nations organization to provide food and medication for needy children throughout the world. One cent contributed to UNICEF will buy five glasses of milk.

In accordance with United Nations' Day, Sunday, Mrs. Fresolone will sponsor a children's art contest. United Nations literature also will be distributed.

Mrs. Robert Cleveland, membership chairman, will arrange a display of the activities of the Juniors to be exhibited in the windows of the Investors Savings and Loan Assn., Union.

RESEARCH GROUP TO SHOW FURS IN CANCER BENEFIT

A fur fashion show will be featured at the meeting Monday at 8:30 p.m. to be held by the Ruth Estrin Goldberg Memorial for Cancer Research at Temple Shalom, Springfield.

The show will be sponsored by Jenece. Representatives of the firm will also do the makeup for the members who will model the furs. Arrangements for the show have been made by Mrs. Seymour Haiken of Short Hills and Mrs. Robert Greenhill of Irvington, program chairman.

During the business portion of the meeting, there will be a vote on constitutional amendments. The results of the recent solicitation drive will be announced. Mrs. Leslie Goldstein of Springfield will preside.

Therapists Study New Techniques Of Retarded Care

Seventeen students from New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania studied new methods in the treatment of brain damaged children this summer at the Children's Specialized Hospital on New Providence rd., Mountainside.

The students, all of whom are student or graduate physical therapists, represented Northeastern University, Sargent College, Boston University and the University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Carolyn Heil headed the teaching staff. Miss Heil has directed the annual summer course at Children's Specialized Hospital since 1959.

Serve As Interns

Each year students and recent graduates from the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, Russell Sage College in Albany, N. Y., Bouve School and Sargent College in Boston, Mass., come to the local hospital to serve as interns, receiving training while applying their skills to children who have difficulty in coordination of nerve and muscle function.

Children's Specialized Hospital cares for hundreds of children who suffer from cerebral palsy or other brain damage. The interns, working closely with these children, the intern therapists acquire additional skills which aid such handicapped little ones to learn to move one extremely independently of the others, to "sense" balance and to walk independently or with the help of crutches. Dr. E. Milton Staub, hospital administrator, said this week.

Effect Of Medicare

Dr. Staub, who assumed the administrator's post on Sept. 1, stated that the need for therapists and nurses, already urgent, will increase many times when the Medicare program goes into full swing. He believes that the Children's Specialized Hospital should have an active part in providing training in special skills for therapists and nurses.

The child with a damaged brain needs special treatment and therapy if he is to use all of his potential. Dr. Staub pointed out. Interning therapists and nurses, working under the direction of the local hospital's specially trained staff, can acquire the skills to help him, the administrator added.

Each club presented its Career Girl of the year. Connecticut Farms Business and Professional Woman's Club had as its special guest, Mrs. Agnes Olesky, president of the Union club. Mrs. Elinor Moser was in charge of arrangements and Mrs. Amend, chairman of hostesses.

Stemmer Claims Freeholder Title Needs Replacing

Freeholder Jay A. Stemmer of Clark this week called for the creation of a new title to describe the job of a member of governing bodies of New Jersey's 21 counties.

Stemmer, who is vice president of the New Jersey Association of Chosen Freeholders, said that he had studied the matter thoroughly and concluded that the name freeholder is obsolete and should be replaced.

"The name freeholder," said Stemmer, "is an anachronism that dates back to medieval England. New Jersey adopted it in colonial times and the name has simply stayed on because no one thought too much about it."

Stemmer said it "seemed silly in this complex atomic age to retain a title that has little or no relationship to the duties of the job. A freeholder's job, especially in this highly industrialized urban area, involves far more than it did when the title was created. Running Union County, or any other county, is a task that calls for superior business acumen and ability. That's why I believe we should have a more modern job title and description."

The Clark Republican, who is seeking a third term on the county board in November, said that he hopes that a name change will be effected soon. He suggested that "Countyman" would be a better title to describe the job of an elected county leader.

Branch 'Y' Forms Father, Son Tribes

The annual formation of the new Indian Guide tribes will take place Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. at the Branch Y. M. C. A. Five Points, Union. It was announced this week by George W. Hoffman, branch executive.

The meeting is for fathers and sons who are interested in the purpose of the "Y" Guides, that is to foster a companionship of fathers and sons, said Hoffman. The Guide program reaches a boy at an early age and there by lengthens the rich years father and son may spend together, he said. The Navajo tribe with Chief Edmund Johanson in charge will give a demonstration of a typical tribal meeting.

A Halloween Party for the entire family is planned for Friday night Oct. 29 at 7:30 at all local "Y's."

Baton twirling classes are held on Saturday morning from 10 to 11 for girls. They are under the direction of Miss Phyllis Katz of Newark State Teachers College, Union.

"The Kenilworth, Roselle Park and Union branch Y. M. C. A. is here to serve the families of these communities and others as well, for convenience and pleasure," said the director.

Armstrong, county home economist, will keynote the session with a talk on the challenge of baby-sitting.

N. J. Trooper Talks To Driving Students

"Driving is a privilege and not a right. Traffic laws are designed to protect drivers and pedestrians and to insure smooth and efficient flow of traffic." These were two of the main points emphasized by State Trooper William Kehrlie of the Morristown State Police Barracks as he addressed 400 junior class students of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School last Friday at a special assembly and lecture tour of all driver education classes.

UN Day Observed By Local Baha'is At Talk, Meeting

United Nations Day will be observed in Springfield on Sunday at a public meeting at 4 p.m. sponsored by the local Baha'is. Richard Jensen of North Plainfield will speak on the topic "Co-operation For A Meaningful World Peace" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Rouse of 56 Denham rd.

He said that "1965 marks the 20th anniversary of the United Nations and has been designated as International Co-operation Year." He further explained, "Baha'is believe that the United Nations is a vital step toward a lasting world peace in which all nations will live together harmoniously."

"In fact, Baha'ullah, founder of the Baha'i World Faith, said a century ago, 'The fundamental purpose animating the faith of God and His religion is to safeguard the interests and promote the unity of the human race, and to foster the spirit of love and fellowship amongst men.' When his son, Abdu'l-Baha, toured the United States in 1912 he added, '... man cannot live singly and alone. He is in need of continuous cooperation and mutual help.'"

Those who wish to learn more about the Baha'i Peace Program and the part the United Nations plays in its ultimate fulfillment are invited to attend this meeting, a spokesman said.

John Swedish, Joe Mills, Tom Santoguida, Mike Janelli, Bob Lummer, Helen Hooper and Sandra Purzycki, who teach the course of driver education at Dayton, also used the AAA Club's testing devices last week to check the student driver's reaction time, peripheral vision, visual acuity, color perception, night vision perception, depth perception and glare recovery.

Tapes on insurance and financial responsibility and a trip to Springfield's traffic court will be featured this week. All 400 students will be eligible for "behind-the-wheel training" in December if they pass this course.

Plan New Features For Winter Market

At a recent meeting of committee chairmen for the YWCA's annual winter market, scheduled for Nov. 17 and 18, new features at this year's two-day fund raising bazaar and opportunities for advanced reservations and pre-orders were announced. The merchandise produced by a year-round effort of several hundred volunteer workers is sold on the two days of the market, but personalized Christmas cards, Christmas wrappings, place mats, and package decorations are on display now at the YWCA and may be purchased by early shoppers. Large card catalogs, the YWCA has announced may be taken home overnight and examined at leisure.

Dear Sir:

I wish to express my happiness and results through advertising with our home town paper. I had many nice and courteous people call me and I received prompt results.

I am so happy that I coined this little ditty:

"Be like the owl who's wise ...

Volunteers Sought For Stuffing Letters

Volunteers are being sought by the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League to assist with preparation for mailing the 1965 Christmas Seals on a two-day "letter stuffing party" to be held in the league's office at 7 Bridger st., Elizabeth, Monday, Nov. 1 and Tuesday, Nov. 2.

Mrs. J. M. Wisan of Elizabeth, honorary chairman of the 1965 Christmas Seal campaign, in Union County, said she hopes that many groups and individuals will volunteer to help during the morning or afternoon of Nov. 1 or 2.

The "letter stuffing party" will begin at 9 a.m. on both days. The chairman said she hopes that the entire mailing to some 90,000 homes in Union County will be completely processed in the two sessions.

Because only a certain number can work at a particular time, all individuals and organizations who can help the League, on either day or at other times, were asked to call the league office at EL 2-2462 to schedule the hours for assisting.

The annual Christmas Seal campaign makes possible the year-round work of the Tuberculosis League to combat tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases in Union County.

Hourihan States He Will Support Rail Commuters

Every effort to maintain and expand existing commuter service for the people of New Jersey was pledged this week by William P. Hourihan, Democratic candidate for the State Senate from Union County.

"The means of livelihood for a great number of our residents lies outside their home community — and for many the availability of rail transportation is essential," he asserted.

"The railroads serving this state have warned time and again that they no longer can afford to serve commuters," Hourihan pointed out. "Unless additional state assistance is provided, this essential service for our residents stands in great danger of serious curtailment."

"It may become necessary for the state of New Jersey to undertake agreements with the railroads serving the state to maintain their rights of way at state expense with the understanding that passenger service will be maintained."

"Let us not forget," Hourihan said, "that any curtailment of railroad service results in an increased burden on our already overloaded highways."

Advisory Group Considers Plan

The possibility of a cooperative program in which Union County Technical Institute senior classmen would spend afternoons as technicians in local electronic plants for 10 weeks in their last term was discussed at the Electronics Advisory Committee meeting last week at the school in Mountainside.

The industry representatives on the committee included the Chairman, Jerome Drexler, vice president of S.F.D. Laboratories in Union; John M. Burke, supervisor at the Burroughs Corporation in Plainfield; Donal J. Tighe, general manager of the Harrison Laboratories Division of Hewlett-Packard in Berkeley Heights, who were in agreement that such a program could benefit both the student and the co-operating company, but foresaw problems in placement of all of the students. It was suggested that the plan be finalized and local industry polled for reaction, a release said.

Old Village Tour Set For Sunday

Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, Mountainside, will conduct a tour Sunday of the historic "Deserted Village," located in a valley between the first and second ridges of the Watchung range. The guided tour is open to the public and will start from Trailside at 2 p.m. and proceed to the site of the billage, a short distance away, by auto.

Dr. Moldenke will discuss the 300-year history and tradition of the area from the time of the Indians and earliest settlers to its present state as a unit of the Union County Park System. He will point out many historic facts about both the native and exotic plant and animal life that exists in the area.
